

City Declaration of Koka City's Respect of Human Rights

We the citizens of Koka City, respecting the fundamental human rights of all people, humbly request to reside in greater happiness in this precious life.

However, in society, the fact that human rights violations exist is still a reality.

We, with the Constitution of Japan and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights as a basis, declare that we will increase awareness regarding human rights, and strive to make our abundantly green home of Koka City a city free of discrimination that “radiates love”, with the desire to become a “city of respect for human rights.”
